Miller Diving Easy Lift Harness & Extraction Bridle

Miller Diving is proud to announce the improved Miller Diving Easy Lift Harness & Extraction Bridle.

The improved Miller Diving Easy Lift Harness & Extraction Bridle are constructed from more water resistant polyester materials and are now sewn and riveted for extra strength. All stainless steel hardware has been upgraded to be compliant, easy to use and extremely secure. The harness is equipped with adjustable waist, shoulder and leg straps, all with Strap Keepers for the loose ends. The harness also features umbilical and accessory attachment rings, and a flexible rubber backpack to mount bailout cylinders. The harness is available with primary webbing straps in Blue only.

The Miller Diving Easy Lift Harness & Extraction Bridle provide a unique three (3) point lifting system that has been color coded. The three point extraction system enables the diver to be lifted in a “sitting” position. The lifting straps of the extraction bridle (two yellow, one red) have been designed to match in color with the Lifting Points on the Harness. “Red to the head” is an easy to remember phrase we recommend use of during training. The two yellow bridle straps for the leg attachments are visually easy to match to the leg attachments (on the yellow leg loops) during training and emergencies.

The Extraction Bridle has also been designed with support netting to help capture and support the weight of the helmet or mask while the diver is being lifted (even if unconscious).

The Miller Diving Easy Lift Harness & Extraction Bridle are ADCI compliant to Consensus
